Module 12 Selftest

Write a program that tests whether a word or string is a palindrome, meaning, it reads the same forward and backward.

Obviously, you should use slices to reverse the string. Then you check whether the original string is equal to the reverted string.