Programming Assignment 6

Implement a skip list with only two levels in Python.
A two-level node appears with probability 20%.

Your data structure should be able to print out its contents, showing the levels of the nodes.
A search operation also needs to print out the number of nodes accessed.

Hand in:
Code
Test cases

Include tests were you insert 50 records with random integer keys and determine the average number of nodes accessed.